Dream

"Up in this air you breathed easily, drawing in a vital assurance and lightness of heart. In the highlands you woke up in the morning and thought: Here I am, where I ought to be."

*-Karen Blixen,
Out of Africa*

Live

*"Africa is mystic; it is wild; it is a sweltering inferno;
it is a photographer's paradise,
a hunter's Valhalla, an escapist's Utopia.
It is what you will, and it withstands all interpretations.
It is the last vestige of a dead world or the cradle of a shiny new one.
To a lot of people, as to myself, it is just 'home'."*

*-Beryl Markham,
West with the Night*

Explore

*"Now, being in Africa, I was hungry for more of it,
the changes of the seasons,
the rains with no need to travel,
the discomforts that you paid to make it real,
the names of the trees, of the small animals,
and all the birds, to know the language and have time to be in it and to move slowly."*

*-Ernest Hemingway,
Green Hills of Africa*

Ngorongoro Crater

The Ngorongoro Crater is one of the most impressive geological features in Africa and, with 20km in diameter, the world's largest (and intact) volcanic caldera. Created by the explosion and collapse of a massive volcano some two to three million years ago, the vast flat-bottomed caldera has become a wilderness haven and is often called "Africa's Garden of Eden". One of the Seven Natural Wonders of Africa and a UNESCO World Heritage Site it is home to approximately 25,000 large mammals, including the endangered black rhino, elephants with large tusks, illusive leopards and black-maned lions, making it a photographer's paradise. The magic of "the crater" is contagious and it should be at the top of everyone's list when visiting Tanzania, the "jewel of Africa". There is a selection of comfortable and luxurious lodges located near and on the rim of the crater, offering some of the most incredible views imaginable.

Serengeti

Tanzania's oldest and most popular national park, the Serengeti is a World Heritage Site and one of the Seven Natural Wonders of Africa. Every year during the annual "great migration", some six million hooves pound the vast open plains and more than 200,000 zebras and 300,000 Thomson gazelles join the wildebeest's trek for fresh grazing. Yet, even when the migration has quieted down, the Serengeti offers some of the most extraordinary game viewing in all of Africa with great herds of buffalo, elephants, giraffe and thousands upon thousands of eland, topi, hartebeest, impala and Grant gazelle. The spectacle of predator versus prey dominates Tanzania's greatest park and sightings of golden-maned lions, leopards and cheetahs in action occur very frequently. Enjoy the comfort of incredible lodges and luxurious tented camps that are scattered across the immense Serengeti plains.

Grumeti Reserve

The Grumeti Reserve in northern Tanzania forms part of the Serengeti-Mara ecosystem. Funded in 1994 by the government of Tanzania, the 350,000 acres of the reserve are now run by Singita, with the main focus being conservation through low impact tourism, research and community involvement.

From one of the magnificent lodges in Grumeti Reserve, with a cold drink in hand, one can become absorbed for hours on end observing an abundance of wildlife, including the annual migration of zebra and wildebeest, the greatest natural spectacle on earth.

Immerse yourself into the wilderness on foot or on horseback, do a balloon safari or take a game drive in an open vehicle. In the evening enjoy a sundowner at an open fire or soak the dust away in a hot tub.

All Grumeti lodges offer a unique combination of western luxury, old world charm and outstanding wildlife experiences.

Surrounding the lake are swamps, which are home to some of the rarest bird species in East Africa - a bird watchers paradise. The swamps are also home to the elusive sitatunga, one of Africa's most magnificent and unique animals. Selous Game Reserve

The famous Selous Game Reserve is THE largest Game Reserve in all of Africa, spanning 55,000km².

The Selous riverine wilderness is diverse and rich in both habitat and wildlife.

The camps are situated on the renowned Rufiji River, which is home to thousands of hippos and crocodile.

As the year progresses most of smaller lakes and puddles dry up, which forces many animals to congregate near the river. This provides our camps with prime game and bird watching, right from the comfort of your deck chair. Some species not found in other parts of Tanzania are common in the Selous, such as common waterbuck, Nyasaland wildebeest, Roosevelt sable, greater kudu and Livingstone eland. Uncongested and exclusive, the Selous Game Reserve represents a perfect "escape" from it all. Spend your time watching animals, on the river fishing for the elusive tiger fish, taking a guided walk through the bush or having a sundowner at an open fire - the possibilities are endless.

Located off the east coast of Tanzania, Zanzibar is arguably one of the top beach destinations in Africa. Not only is the island surrounded by white beaches and crystal clear water, but the island is also rich in culture and history. Despite the fact that it has become an important tourist attraction, it has managed to maintain its purity and exotic nature, which sets it apart from most cluttered beach destinations. For those who are seeking a unique vacation by the sea before or after a photographic safari, Zanzibar is the place to go. Its vibrant coral reefs and warm tropical waters make this a water sports paradise. One of the main attractions of the island is the famous "Stone Town", a historic trade center with Swahili influence, full of exotic charm.

Mnemba is a small and secluded island, famed for its exclusivity and beauty. It is located only a few miles off the coast of Zanzibar, making it easily accessible. White sandy beaches and crystal clear waters surround the island's only lodge, the barefoot luxury Mnemba Island Lodge. Mnemba is surrounded by gorgeous coral gardens, where thousands of different sea species reside - a hot spot for scuba diving and snorkeling.

Cape Town

Cape Town, also known as “The Mother City”, is very diverse with her dramatic landscapes, amazing beaches and bountiful vineyards.

If wine is not your pleasure, try a microbrewery or a brandy distillery.

Take full advantage of the abundant outdoor activities available, such as surfing, hiking or mountain biking on the famous Table Mountain or visit the Kirstenbosch Botanical Gardens.

One of the most impressive attractions in Africa, the Victoria Falls are located on the Zambezi River, the fourth largest river in Africa. The Falls are considered to be the largest waterfall in the world and their majestic beauty and power provide an intoxicating sense of danger when standing on the edge of the drop.

Dr. Livingstone is said to be the first European, who discovered the waterfall in 1855 and named it after Queen Victoria. The local name "Mosi-oa-Tunya", which means "the smoke that thunders" is certainly very suitable.

Victoria Falls are the ultimate location for river rafting, surfing, kayaking and heart stopping gorge swings.

If you are less of a thrill seeker, there are plenty of more relaxing activities available. These options include angling, a round of golf, meandering the local arts and crafts market, enjoying a sunset river cruise or a private helicopter ride.
